

SHIPPERS OF FRUIT WON THEIR CASES

THE SUPREME COURT DECIDES AGAINST RAILROADS IN THE CITRUS CASE.

CAN PRE-COOL THE FRUIT

Right to Pre-cool and Pre-heat Fruit
By Shippers Sustained by the Court.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The United States supreme court, in a unanimous decision, has ruled in favor of the shippers of fruit, sustaining their right to pre-cool and pre-heat fruit before shipment. The court decided that the railroads could not require shippers to pay for the cost of pre-cooling and pre-heating fruit before shipment.

The shippers of fruit, who are represented by the National Fruit Shippers' Association, had brought suit against the railroads, claiming that the railroads were violating the interstate commerce law by requiring shippers to pay for the cost of pre-cooling and pre-heating fruit before shipment.

The court, in its decision, stated that the railroads had no right to require shippers to pay for the cost of pre-cooling and pre-heating fruit before shipment, and that the shippers were entitled to pre-cool and pre-heat fruit before shipment.

The court also stated that the railroads were not entitled to recover the cost of pre-cooling and pre-heating fruit from the shippers, and that the shippers were entitled to recover the cost of pre-cooling and pre-heating fruit from the railroads.

The court's decision is a victory for the shippers of fruit, and it is expected that it will result in a decrease in the cost of shipping fruit.

The court's decision is also a victory for the interstate commerce law, and it is expected that it will result in a decrease in the cost of shipping fruit.
